

Section 3 Quiz – Series

1. What method coerces a DataFrame into a Series object?
  - a. fit
  - b. coerce
  - c. squeeze
  - d. shrink
2. How many Series rows do the head and tail methods return if we do not provide an argument?
  - a. 10
  - b. 5
  - c. 3
3. What is the syntactical difference between calling a method and an attribute on an object?
  - a. There is no difference.
  - b. Attributes require parentheses, methods do not.
  - c. Methods require parentheses, attributes do not.
4. What Series method invokes a Python function on every Series value?
  - a. map
  - b. apply
  - c. execute
  - d. loopOver
5. I want to check if the value "Red" exists in the values of a Series called s. Which of the following syntax options will yield the right result?
  - a. "Red" in s.index
  - b. "Red" in s
  - c. "Red" in s.values
6. TRUE or FALSE: The index labels of a pandas Series must be unique.
  - a. True
  - b. False